SAC
board of directors and committees

FAI affiliations

Editorial

These pages are dedicated to those fine volunteers in our association who have given so freely of their energy and time to make the organization work for the benefit of everyone.

This document shows our SAC board of directors and every SAC committee and its members since inception of the Soaring Association of Canada. There are a number of volunteers helping in FAI committees – yes, we are also represented there! The name index pages cross-reference individuals with the offices held by them – for biographies and the like. Additions to this file are made at least annually.

The data have been gathered from the first "SAC Procedures Manual", issued in 1982, and from free flight issues dating back to 1945; however you will find quite a few empty spots. If you know of any names that could fill a hole, please let me know. Equally important is the correction of errors.

Your help is most appreciated.

finance & steering 1944 – 1999

Background
The Steering Committee was an ad hoc construct. It was originally established when there was a lot of pressure on SAC because of the airspace issue, the establishment of NAV CAN, as well as issues associated with the reorganization of Transport Canada. SAC had to act fairly quickly on several fronts and there was not always time to have board meetings which, in addition, were costly. There was also a need to quickly build a competent Airspace Committee.

Eventually the work of the Steering Committee seemed to overlap too much with that of the board, so the Committee was dropped.

A similar committee could be constituted if a critical issue that required a lot of extra attention were to arise.

At the time, the Committee was instrumental in dealing with most of the important regulatory issues facing the soaring community.

world championships reps
1948-1995

The representative of this committee looked after the allocation of funds from the government for participation in the worlds. With government cut-backs this office was no longer required. It is thought that the now smaller teams could appoint their own rep.
