finance & steering 1944 - 1999Background

The Steering Committee was an ad hoc construct. It was originally established when there was a lot of pressure on SAC because of the airspace issue, the establishment of NAV CAN, as well as issues associated with the reorganization of Transport Canada. SAC had to act fairly quickly on several fronts and there was not always time to have board meetings which, in addition, were costly. There was also a need to quickly build a competent Airspace Committee.

Eventually the work of the Steering Committee seemed to overlap too much with that of the board, so the Committee was dropped.

A similar committee could be constituted if a critical issue that required a lot of extra attention were to arise.

At the time, the Committee was instrumental in dealing with most of the important regulatory issues facing the soaring community.

The representative of this committee looked after the allocation of funds from the government for participation in the worlds. With government cutbacks this office was no longer required. It is thought that the now smaller teams could appoint their own rep.
